

Pre-MBA Analyst, Strategic Projects

Job Description

About W Health Ventures

W Health Ventures is a Boston-based venture capital firm focused on helping build the future of healthcare delivery. Founded by serial technology entrepreneur, investor, and philanthropist Sunil Wadhvani, W Health invests in and incubates early-stage companies that address critical unmet healthcare needs leveraging technology and AI in the US and India.

So far, we have led the investments across AI-based mental health - Wysa, Personalized chronic disease management - Beat-O, Online care platform for individuals with type 2 diabetes - Ryse Health and virtual clinic for men's and women's wellness - GHC

Pre-MBA Analyst Role

We are looking to welcome an Analyst with 1-3 years of work experience post undergraduate studies. The Analyst will be an integral part of the team and an independent owner of all parts of our operations.

Here is a snapshot of the responsibilities:

- Opportunity assessment and ideation:
 - Explore and analyse markets and trends in health-tech to identify areas ripe for disruption
 - Identify best practices and marketplace gaps
 - Identify and network with a curated list of experts and KOLs in the healthcare and health-tech domain
 - Help develop innovative business plans and investment theses to fill key gaps in the health-tech space
 - Help design structure and process for repeatability in identifying, building, and scaling ventures
- Validation and launch:
 - Support financial analysis and modelling to evaluate business viability and sustainability
 - Work on Investment Committee pitch decks for identified opportunities and present at IC meetings
 - Help recruit core team for ideas including CXOs, Product, Tech
 - Devise product strategy and roadmap
 - Provide ongoing strategic support, including the development of strategic and operational KPIs

And here is why we think this is an amazing opportunity:

- You will get to develop an in-depth understanding of the digital health space, which is seeing strong momentum
- You will get to deep dive into various concepts and ideas to understand business fundamentals
- Most importantly you will have the opportunity to drive better healthcare outcomes and make a lasting impact
- This is the perfect platform and learning ground before applying to a premier B school or be an entrepreneur

You should apply if:

- you have an undergraduate degree from a top school
- you are great at primary/ secondary research and are curious to learn about healthcare and health-tech space
- you have strong analytical skills and critical thinking (we will be doing a lot of ideation and brainstorming)
- you have strong communication skills (we will be speaking with experts, senior leaders and customers everyday)
- you are passionate about ideas and want to understand how to build out a business
- you have some healthcare or health-tech experience (preferred, but not required)

Please drop us an email at nhegde@whealthventures.com with your resume and subject line "Pre-MBA Analyst - Strategic projects" followed by your name.